MAIN POINTS OF WILSON'S PLEA

Emphasizes League to Prevent War As the Only Way to Keep Faith.

"This treaty was not intended merely to end this war; it was intended to prevent any similar war.

"I wonder if some of the opponents of the League of Nations have forgotten the promises we made our people before we went to that peace table. We had taken by processes of law the flower of our youth from every countryside, from every household, and we told those mothers and fathers and sisters and wives and sweethearts that we were taking those men to fight a war which would end business of that sort, and if we do not end it, if we do not do the best that human concert of action can do to end it, we are of all men the most unfaithful—the most unfaithful to the loving hearts who suffered in this war; the most unfaithful to those households bowed in grief, yet lifted with the feeling that the lad laid down his life for a great thing, among other things in order that other lads might not have to do the same thing.

"That is what the League of Nations is for, to end this war justly and it is . . . to serve notice on Governments which would contemplate the same things which Germany contemplated, that they will do it at their peril.

"The League of Nations is the only thing that can prevent the recurrence of this dreadful catastrophe and redeem our promises. And the character of the League is based upon the experience of this very war.

"Don't let them pull it down. Don't let them misrepresent it; don't let them lead this Nation away from the high purpose with which this war was inaugurated and fought.

"As I came through the line of youngsters in khaki a few minutes ago I felt that I could salute it because I had done the job in the way I promised them I would do it, and when this treaty is accepted men in khaki will not have to cross the seas again.

"Do you realize, my fellow citizens, that the whole world is waiting on America? The only country in the world that is trusted at this moment is the United States and they are waiting to see whether their trust is justified or not.

"That has been the ground of my impatience. I knew their trust was justified, but I begrudge the time that certain gentlemen oblige us to take in telling them so. We shall tell them so in a voice as authentic as any voice in history, and in the years to come men will be glad to remember that they had some part in the great struggle which brought this uncomparable consummation of the hopes of mankind."

Calling on opponents of the League of Nations to present a "better program" for peace, President Wilson in his speech at Indianapolis declared it is a case of "put up or shut up."

NAME YOUR FARM!

Passengers on the L. H. & St. L. railroad trains and the land travelers too are lastingly impressed as they pass through Webster and see G. N. Lyddan's name and the name of his farm "Park Place" painted in big clear letters on his barn. In passing a prosperous and fine looking farm like Mr. Lyddan's, the first thing folks want to know is the name of the owner; it is the farmer's trade-mark and gives his place a distinction from all other farms. Name your farm, print it in big letters and get in the lime-light.

Lovers Having Knot Tied In Hoosier State.

Cupid has had an exceptionally busy time in Cloverport in the last few weeks. In spite of the H. C. L., and whatever else may hinder, the matrimonial fever has spread and love has had its way. Evidently there must be a delightful romance attached to having the knot tied before a magistrate and in the State of Indiana, for many of the couples seek it one after another.

Among the marriages recorded this week is that of Miss Mary Kinder and Mr. Earl Hobbs, which took place in Cannelton, Monday morning, September 15.

Mrs. Hobbs is the daughter of Mr. Hardin Kinder, and she was engaged as a clerk in Mr. S. L. Wheatley's store until Saturday. She is a young woman and has a large circle of friends.

Big Type Poland Chinas The Farmer's Hog.

I raised the pig that won first in the Pig Club last year. I have them good enough to win again this year, if properly fitted, and they are priced worth the money too. These are the kind of pigs that go out and make good and please their owners.

In a few weeks I will be weaning some of the best pigs that I have ever raised. See them before you buy elsewhere. Here you get the pig you buy; no drawing for choice, no lottery. I sell hogs and satisfaction.

The sows of my herd come from three of the best hog-producing states of the Union. I have never let money stand between me and the hog I wanted to improve my herd.

I also have two males large enough for service from a litter of ten, choice individuals, for sale now.

The pork barrel is the end of the hog. I have the kind that fill it.

The sow pigs are all sold. Choice mail pigs for sale at weaning time.
